

TOM PERLOFF

LIFE TRUSTEE OF THE EINSTEIN HEALTHCARE NETWORK

Tom Perloff has held numerous leadership roles in business and community organizations. The delivery of efficient and effective quality healthcare has also been a reoccurring focus.

Healthcare Delivery – Mr. Perloff is a Life Trustee of the Einstein Healthcare Network, having served on the Board for over forty years. The Einstein Network recently was consolidated into the Jefferson System. Previously, he served as Chairman of the Board of the Einstein Medical Center and of the Einstein Healthcare Network. He taught health economics and conducted research in the Department of Community Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School and was the administrator of a multi-specialty primary care practice. This innovative practice was a delivery component of a community-based Health Maintenance Organization.

Business Career – Mr. Perloff transitioned a regional wholesale grocery business into the sixth largest foodservice distribution company in the country. Relatedly, he chaired the nation's largest foodservice group purchasing organization and the national foodservice trade association. He was active on the Board of the Academy of Food Marketing at St. Joseph's University and later taught foodservice supply chain economics in its Haub School of Business.

Community Commitments – Mr. Perloff has held numerous leadership positions in his Synagogue and in the national Reform Judaism movement. This commitment has led to interest in Jewish genealogy and community archives.
